Body Mass Index Calculator Project

For this project, you will need to create a class called BMI. The class should create a GUI like the one shown below.

• When the button is clicked, it should calculate the BMI
• It should display it where the dashed field (a Label) below is shown
• Use Google to find out the formula
• This should change the value of the Label to the answer then the button is clicked
• Remember: create the label outside of the button clicked class
